What Your HANDWRITING Says About You

BY AMANDA
PRESSNER

A handwritten note can be more than a just message. "The way you write your letters is an expression of personality," says Sheila Lowe, author of The Complete Idiot's Guide to Handwriting Analysis. Take out a sheet of paper and write down this sentence: I know that green frogs eat purple cranberries. Then use this guide to see what your handwriting says about you.

THE LETTER T

If you cross in the middle like...
You're likely to set small mini-goals, such as not missing the school bus.

If you cross two-thirds of the way up like...
You make long-term goals you can achieve with hard work, such as making an A on a test.

If you cross high or above the stem like...
You're a dreamer with very high goals, such as becoming President.

SHAPE

If your letters are big and bubbly like...
You're affectionate and like to hear you've done a good job. You often base your decisions on what feels right instead of just the facts.

If your letters are small and compact like...
You're smart and independent. You use logic to tackle problems and try to handle things yourself before asking for help.

IF THESE PERSONALITY
WORDS MATCH
YOUR OWN
FOR YOU!

SLANT

If your letters stand up straight like...
You like to think things through before acting and tend to keep your feelings to yourself.

If your letters lean to the right like...
You're outgoing and sociable, but if something's troubling you people are quick to notice.

THE LETTER I

If your dot is over the top like...
You're a loyal friend.

If your dot is high and off to the right like...
You're enthusiastic and upbeat.

If your dot is in a bubble shape like...
You're imaginative and a crowd-pleaser.
